

To Whom It May Concern,

CherryBlossoms.com is an Internet Social Networking Company like Match.com, eHarmony.com, OurTime.com, Zoosk.com, PlentyofFish.com and hundreds of others.

Our members contact other members for whom they feel some connection or interest for the purposes of getting to know each other. They are completely on their own and what they do is their personal business.

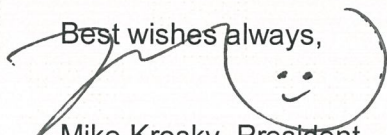

There are no introductions or matchmaking services, or social referrals between US Citizens and foreign nationals. There are no written consent forms or contracts that members sign.

"Please be advised that section 4 (B) (ii) of IMBRA exempts dating companies whose principal business is not to provide dating services between US citizens and foreign nationals so long as it charges comparable rates and offers comparable services to all individuals regardless of gender or country of citizenship. Consequently our company is exempt as it falls within this exemption (as do many other large dating companies)."

- Cherry Blossoms does not charge a fee to anyone who gets married.
- Women create their own profile. It is not arranged by the company.
- Cherry Blossoms is only a safe platform for people to meet and the rest is up to you.
- Cherry Blossoms is exempt from IMBRA as it is worldwide and men (and women) from other countries have the same opportunities as US men to meet women.
- No personal meetings are arranged. If two people meet online by their own will, they are on their own.
- Cherry Blossoms makes no introductions.
- The primary purpose of our website is social networking, not dating. The majority of our clients are chatting, talking, writing letters, sharing about life, etc.

Cherry Blossoms is not, and has never been in the marriage broker business.

Best wishes always,

Mike Krosky, President
