

- Subsequent trips to visit the beneficiary;
- Birth certificates of children born to the relationship;
- Any other evidence that can show that you and the beneficiary have a bona fide intent to marry.

CRIMINAL CONVICTION DOCUMENTS OR COURT DISPOSITIONS

The record indicates that you have been arrested, charged, indicted, fined, imprisoned and/or convicted of the following crime in which you did not submit court dispositions:

- Disorderly Conduct

Please submit certified copies of all court and police records, showing the charges and dispositions for every offense. This is required even if your records were sealed or otherwise cleared or if anyone, including a judge, law enforcement officer, or attorney told you that you no longer have a record.

If the court disposition(s) is/are not available, you must obtain a certified letter from the court(s) stating that there is no record. You may submit original documents establishing the non-existence of court records, or certified copies which must include the relevant court seal stamps. In addition to evidence establishing the court documents are not available, submit a notarized statement detailing the events that lead to the arrest, the arresting agency, what charges were filed by the arresting agency, the final disposition (guilty, not guilty etc.) of all of the charges with a list of the charges, the location of the court and any punishments.

NOTE: If your petition is approved, the information you submit regarding your criminal conviction may be provided to the beneficiary of your petition pursuant to section 833(a)(5)(A)(iii) of the International Marriage Broker Regulation Act of 2005.

TWO YEAR MEETING REQUIREMENT

You must establish that you and the beneficiary [redacted] have been in each other's physical presence at any time during the two years immediately preceding [redacted] filing of this petition.

The beneficiary was previous petitioned by another fiance petitioner on May 24, 2018; therefore, please explain how and when you first met the beneficiary and through which platform.