

Saadain Syed <saadain@gmail.com>

FOIA Request -

3 messages

aman@khan.law <aman@khan.law>

Tue, Jan 18, 2022 at 3:38 AM

To: [REDACTED]

Hi [REDACTED]

I hope you're doing well. We were unable to terminate the removal order because we did not have all the requested documents. Now, I will have to file a FOIA request from the Department of Homeland Security to obtain all the documents. Please be on the lookout for an email requesting to approve the FOIA request. Your spouse is the one that will need to sign off on the disclosure.

This will be a comprehensive request, and USCIS can take up to 6+ months to provide us with these documents.

Best,

Aman

[REDACTED]

Wed, Jan 19, 2022 at 12:46 PM

To: aman@khan.law

Hello,

Thank you so much for following up on this. I'll definitely let you know when I receive any email from FOIA. Once we have these documents from USCIS, will those be sufficient to terminate the removal order? I guess what I am trying to ask is that, after we submit the requested documents, will I be able to start the process of green card application for my wife?

Regards,

-

On Tue, Jan 18, 2022 at 3:38 AM <aman@khan.law> wrote:

Hi

I hope you're doing well. We were unable to terminate the removal order because we did not have all the requested documents. Now, I will have to file a FOIA request from the Department of Homeland Security to obtain all the documents. Please be on the lookout for an email requesting to approve the FOIA request. Your spouse is the one that will need to sign off on the disclosure.

This will be a comprehensive request, and USCIS can take up to 6+ months to provide us with these documents.

Best,

Aman

aman@khan.law <aman@khan.law>

Mon, Feb 7, 2022 at 10:47 AM

To: [REDACTED]

Hi,

Yes. The EOIR will not make a decision unless it's provided with all the documents. I have now requested all the missing documents from DHS. I will keep you posted.

We may start your spouse's GC process now. The Greencard process will be filed with USCIS, and the removal terminations are with EOIR. They are two separate proceedings.

Do you want to restart your spouse's green card process?
